Charitable Beneficiaries Selected for Upcoming Performances of The Vagina Monologues

The University of Saskatchewan Students' Union (USSU) Women's Centre announced today the charitable beneficiaries from the upcoming performances of the hit play The Vagina Monologues, March 6 and 7 at The Broadway Theatre in Saskatoon.

The Saskatoon Sexual Assault and Information Centre was named the top beneficiary. "Take Back the Night" Saskatoon, and the V-Day Spotlight Campaign were named secondary beneficiaries.

All proceeds from the performances will be donated to the beneficiaries.

The Vagina Monologues, an award-winning play originally written by Eve Ensler, will be directed by Heather Morrison, an alumna from the University of Saskatchewan.

"We're extremely proud to be the sponsor for this amazing play, and particularly delighted to donate the proceeds to these exceptionally worthy causes," said Ferron Olynyk, Coordinator for the USSU Women's Centre.

"Our beneficiaries were selected mainly because of their focus against sexual violence in the community and providing support to sexual violence victims," said Olynyk.

Tickets for the performances are on sale and are available at the Broadway Theatre, The Information Centre in Place Riel at the U of S, and at the USSU Women's Centre.
